

Dear Parent or Guardian,

If your child is currently receiving free or reduced priced meal benefits, and you have not completed a new application for the 2019-2020 school year or have not been notified by mail of a direct certification, you must complete a new application on or before September 17, 2019 to continue participating in the program without interruption to the benefits.

Failing to complete and submit a new application by the September 17, 2019 deadline will result in your child's meals automatically reverting to full price status on September 18, 2019. Any meal charges accrued from September 18, 2019 forward will be the responsibility of the parent or guardian to pay. Once a new application is submitted and processed, and if the application qualifies, benefits can be reinstated. However, benefits are never retroactive and the balance incurred during the time between the end of the grace period and the processing of a new application will remain the sole responsibility of the parent or guardian.

Free and reduced meal benefit applications are available online, in the school offices and in the high school cafeteria. Applications can be submitted anytime throughout the school year should your financial circumstances change.

If you have not done so already and wish to apply for meal benefits for this school year, please sign into your Skyward parent portal to complete a new application or pick up a paper application at either school office or in the high school cafeteria.

Thank you,

Jean Harden
